

Call for Paper

Taiwan Journal of Mathematics Teachers

The Taiwan Journal of Mathematics Teachers is co-published by Department of Mathematics, National Taiwan Normal University and the Taiwan Association for Mathematics Education. The journal aims to publish original articles related to mathematics education. The journal welcomes papers focusing on the practical teaching of mathematics that encompasses the discussion of instructional strategies of mathematics, mathematics misconceptions, mathematics curriculum, teaching materials and others. Moreover, evaluation of research issues, critical analysis of papers and introduction of mathematics education research trend are also welcomed. Articles can be categorized into these two categories.

1. Empirical studies: for Chinese manuscripts, 8000 words in length; for English manuscripts, 4000 words in length
2. Practical sharing: for Chinese manuscripts, 2000-3000 words in length; for English manuscripts, 2000-3000 words in length

The journal will be published twice a year, in April and October respectively. The format will be in electronic version. The journal receives manuscripts all year round, and they will be reviewed at once after submission.

Submission of an article implies that the work should be original practical teaching experiences and has not been submitted or published in the full version previously in other journals, seminars or books. Articles should be written in Chinese or English. All text should be set to 12-point Times New Roman and single-spaced. Articles shall be submitted via : tjmtedit@gmail.com